

KEVIN KRAMER, LIBRARIAN

A native of Anaheim, California, Kevin Kramer is excited to have the opportunity to be back in southern California. Before joining the San Diego Symphony, he was the librarian for The Phoenix Symphony for three and a half seasons. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in music from the State University of New York at Fredonia, having studied horn with Marc Guy. Taking trips to hear the Cleveland Symphony, Pittsburgh Symphony, New York Philharmonic, Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, and Buffalo Philharmonic while in school were formative educational experiences. Having the privilege to spend four summers at the Interlochen Center for the Arts' Summer Arts Camp inspired him with a passion for orchestral literature.

Getting to know Kevin Kramer...

Q: In your spare time, do you also play an instrument?

A: I play the horn.

Q: What are your favorite travel destinations?

A: Prague, London, Yosemite National Park, Yellowstone National Park

Q: Can you name some favorite composers and/or musical periods?

A: Bruckner, Mahler and Richard Strauss

Q: What do you love most about San Diego (other than the weather)?

A: The North Park neighborhood.

Q: What are some of your favorite San Diego restaurants?

A: Splash and Adam's Steak and Eggs